Yung-Sheng Chen received his B.S. degree from Chung Yuan Christian University in 1983, and his M.S. degree and Ph.D. from the National Tsing Hua University, Taiwan, in 1985 and 1989, respectively, all in electrical engineering. He received a Best Paper Award from the Chinese Institute of Engineers in 1989, and an Outstanding Teaching Award from the Yuan Ze University in 2005, respectively. He is a Senior Member of the IEEE. In 1991, he joined the Electrical Engineering Department of the Yuan-Ze Institute of Technology (currently Yuan Ze University), Taoyuan, Taiwan, ROC, where he is now a Full Professor. Since 1998, his name has been listed in the Who's Who of the World. Currently, he also serves as an Associate Editor of International Journal of Machine Learning and Cybernetics, and an Editorial Board Member of ISRN Signal Processing. He is the invited Editor of the book "Image Processing" published by InTech. His interests include human visual perception, computer vision, circuit system design, and information management.

Chin-Hung Teng received his Ph.D. in Electrical Engineering from the National Tsing Hua University, Hsinchu, Taiwan, in 2005. He is currently an Assistant Professor at the Department of Information Communication, Yuan Ze University. His research interests include color image processing, computer vision, computer graphics, image-based modeling, and augmented reality.
